The Christian cemetery is a memorial and a record.

It is not a mere field in which the dead are stowed away and unknown; it is a touching and beautiful history, written in family burial plots, in mounded graves, in sculptured and inscribed monuments.

It tells the story of the past, not of its institutions, or its wars, or its ideas, but of its individual lives, of its men and women and children, and of its household.

It is silent, but eloquent; it is common, but it is unique. We find no such history elsewhere; there are no records in all the wide world in which we can discover so much that is suggestive, so much that is pathetic and impressive.

With the publication of this first of several volumes of cemetery recordings, it is our aim to have a record for researchers of our generation and those who will follow.

There are 86 cemeteries in the county in existence and many more have disappeared or have been moved. Regretfully many of the early ancestors' graves were not marked or had wooden markers that have long since deteriorated and there is now no way of locating the information. There are also many graves of today that are not marked.

A few of the cemeteries that maintain records were made available to us; and some were not. Most of the smaller ones only maintain records of plot sale.

We have copied the inscriptions as faithfully as humanly possible; including the military and genealogical information shown.

This first volume, and the ones to follow, are a culmination of: ant and spider bites; sunburn; sweat; frustration; digging out sunken stones; cut fingers; a broken ankle; tromping through knee-high grass and hoping that the snakes had left; falling into sunken-in graves; being escorted by a machette-wielding caretaker to the phone as he couldn't speak English, we couldn't speak Spanish, and he didn't understand that we had permission from his boss; one of our cars was broken into and robbed; lunches eaten in the shade of a tree at the cemeteries; and of people stopping to ask what were we doing and "what is genealogy?"

We have seen many parts of our 1,072.8 square mile county that we were not familiar with. We have met many nice people and owe thanks to them. But the camaraderie that has developed within our "cemetery group" is of the greatest value to us.

The following have been busy with the recordings from the first day: Ceta Armitage, John Baxley, Nancy Berkan, Imogene Singley and J. B. Singley.

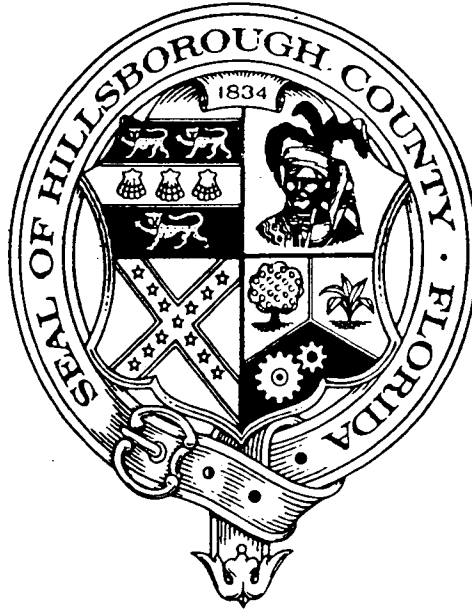

Others who have helped are: Minnie Alderman, James D. Cline, Beverly Johnson, Elizabeth Mixon, Wilfred Robbins, Elizabeth Ryals, Anne Taylor, Patricia Woods, and Melvin R. Yager.

County seal combines history, local color of Tampa area

The Official Seal of Hillsborough County

By JIM LOFTUS JR.

The official Seal of Hillsborough County depicts quite a bit of history, from the pre-Revolution days to modern times.

The four quadrants, looped with a wide belt bearing the county's name, has served as Hillsborough County's sign and symbol since the mid-60s when it was designed by the late Theodore Lesley, a commissioner of the county Historical Society.

The upper left quadrant portrays the coat of arms of the Earl of Hillsborough, secretary of state to the American colonies under the British rule of George III. The county and the bay were both named after this English statesman.

Adjacent to the coat of arms is a likeness of Seminole Indian warrior Billy Bowlegs, recognizing the state as once the land of the Seminoles.

The third segment of the seal depicts the stars and bars of the battle flag of the Confederate States of America, a historical memento of Florida's secession from the Union in the 1860s.

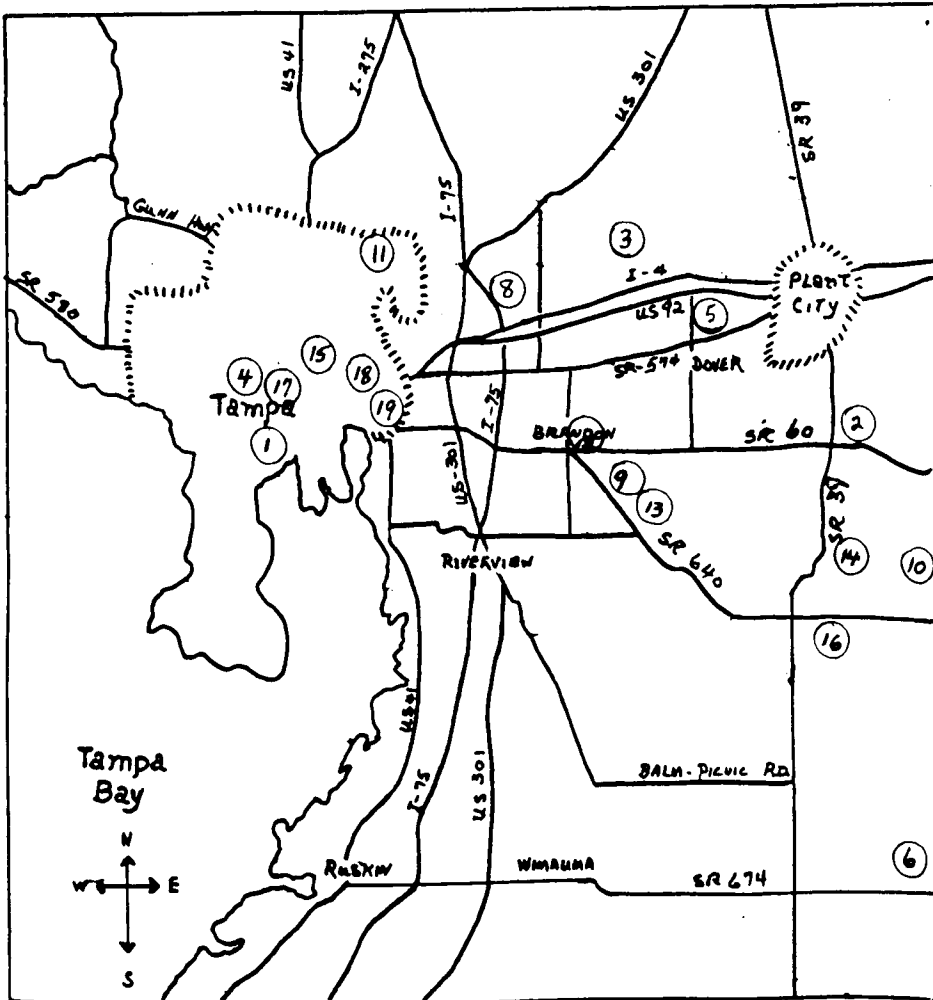

The fourth quadrant is a representation of both agriculture — an orange tree and tobacco plant — and industry, depicted by the machinery cogs of the industrial revolution.

The 1834 date on the county seal signifies Hillsborough County's organization. On Jan. 25 of that year, the U.S. Legislative Council of the Territory of Florida approved an act organizing Hillsborough as Florida's 19th county.

The new Hillsborough County then comprised about 5.5 million acres including the present counties of Polk, Pinellas, Hardee, Highlands, DeSoto, Hillsborough, Pasco, Manatee, Sarasota and Charlotte. The civilian population was less than 100.
