450 Riviera Hotels Closed in Protest Over French Strike
PARIS, June 28.—(A.P.)—The first mass retaliation against striking workers in France was taken today by Riviera hotel owners who proclaimed a lockout of 450 establishments. They announced they were closing the hotels indefinitely because of inability to meet workers' demands for higher wages and shorter hours despite the government's attempt at arbitration. The workers struck a week ago but the hotels remained open for such guests as wished to make their own beds and find their meals elsewhere. Chambers of commerce protested the closing of the hotels would send many hundreds of foreign tourists to the Italian Riviera with a heavy loss in trade on the French seacoast.

Expensive Camera Not Needed To Win Snapshot Contest

The Tribune's seven-week Amateur Snapshot contest, which gets under way Wednesday, is open to every amateur snapshotter except employees of the Tribune and individuals or families engaged in the manufacture, sale, commercial finishing or professional use of photographic material.

There are no restrictions on the make of camera or film you may use; you may do your own developing and printing or have it done by your photo finisher. If you do not own a camera you may borrow one from a friend and still be eligible. Isn't that fair enough?

Any Camera Will Do
There seems to be an erroneous idea that one must own an expensive camera and have long experience in picture making to take prize-winning snapshots. If you have such thoughts, dismiss them from your mind at once for it isn't true. The young-in-experience amateur with an inexpensive box camera has as much chance to win as the fellow with the expensive outfit. It depends a lot on your own ingenuity.

In the 1935 national contest, many cameras costing $5 or less won substantial cash prizes for their owners. One was awarded a National Class Award of $250. Lucky shots, perhaps, some of them, while others were taken with forethought and consideration for the human interest appeal of the subject. Remember that entries are judged on the human interest appeal or the interest the picture arouses. Photographic excellence or technique will not be the deciding factor in determining the prize winners.

Weekly Cash Prizes
The Tribune will award six prizes of $2 each week for the best pictures received. These weekly prize-winning pictures, together with others receiving honorable mention, each identified with the name of the entrant, will be published.

At the close of the contest, four prizes of $5 each will be awarded for the four best pictures of all submitted—one from each class. These four final prize-winning pictures will then be entered by The Tribune in the Newspaper National Snapshot Awards to compete with pictures entered by newspapers in other cities.

$10,000 in Awards
The National Awards represent 125 cash prizes totaling $10,000 ranging from $50 to $1000. The rules for The Tribune contest:

Read Contest Rules
A good snapshot of an unusual bit of Florida scenery is certain to gain strong consideration in the $10,000 national contest simply because it will be outstanding in contrast to such snapshots from other sections of the country. Therefore, read the rules of The Tribune's contest below, then get out your camera and go snapping.

1. Your snapshot may be made on any type of film, but must not be made on glass plate negatives. Any make of camera, film, chemicals or paper may be used. Developing and printing may be done by a photo finisher or the entrant.

2. Pictures must have been made after June 24, 1936.

3. No prints will be returned. Entrants are urged to send in negatives so snapshots may be enlarged for publishing. The Tribune will take care of the negatives.

4. No print or enlargement more than 10 inches in the longest dimension will be accepted. No art work or retouching is permitted on prints or the negatives from which they are made. Pictures should not be mounted or framed.

5. To enter the contest, mail a print or prints of as many pictures as you desire to "Amateur Snapshot Contest Editor," The Tampa Tribune. On the back of each picture print your name and address clearly in ink and the name of the class in which you wish the picture entered. (See classifications below). Entrants may submit as many pictures as desired at any time during the period of the contest.

6. Each week The Tribune will pay $2 for the six best snapshots. In addition, at the close of the contest $15 will be paid to the final winner in each of the four classifications listed below. These four winners then will be entered in the National Awards, where they will compete for prizes totaling $10,000.

7. Before receiving The Tribune's final prize of $15 in each of the four classifications, the entrant must sign a statement that his picture has not and will not be entered in any other contest.

8. The contest is strictly for amateurs. Anyone living in the United States is eligible except employees of The Tribune and individuals or members of families engaged in the manufacture, sale, commercial finishing or professional use of photographic goods.

Razorback Saves Blooded Brood in Wildcat's Attack

HAHIRA, Ga., June 28.—(A.P.)—A. O. Rogers said today a piney woods sow, with no pedigree but a fighting heart, had solved the disappearance of 11 Hampshire pigs from his farm; the blooded brood disappeared over a 2-week period, one a night. Mystery enveloped the case.

Rogers chose the plebeian native rooter, with her group of young pigs, to find the answer. He penned them up with rails.

For three nights all was quiet. On the fourth, a medley of screams and squeals broke Rogers' sleep.

Dashing out, he found a 45-pound wildcat mauling into helplessness in one corner of the pen. Across from the cat was the sow, bleeding but safe, with her young.

Soviet To Pay Premium For 6 Or More Children

MOSCOW, June 28.—(Associated Press.)—All families in the Soviet Union with more than six children, the youngest of which is under five, begin immediately to receive state pensions.

A "big family" law to this effect was promulgated last night.

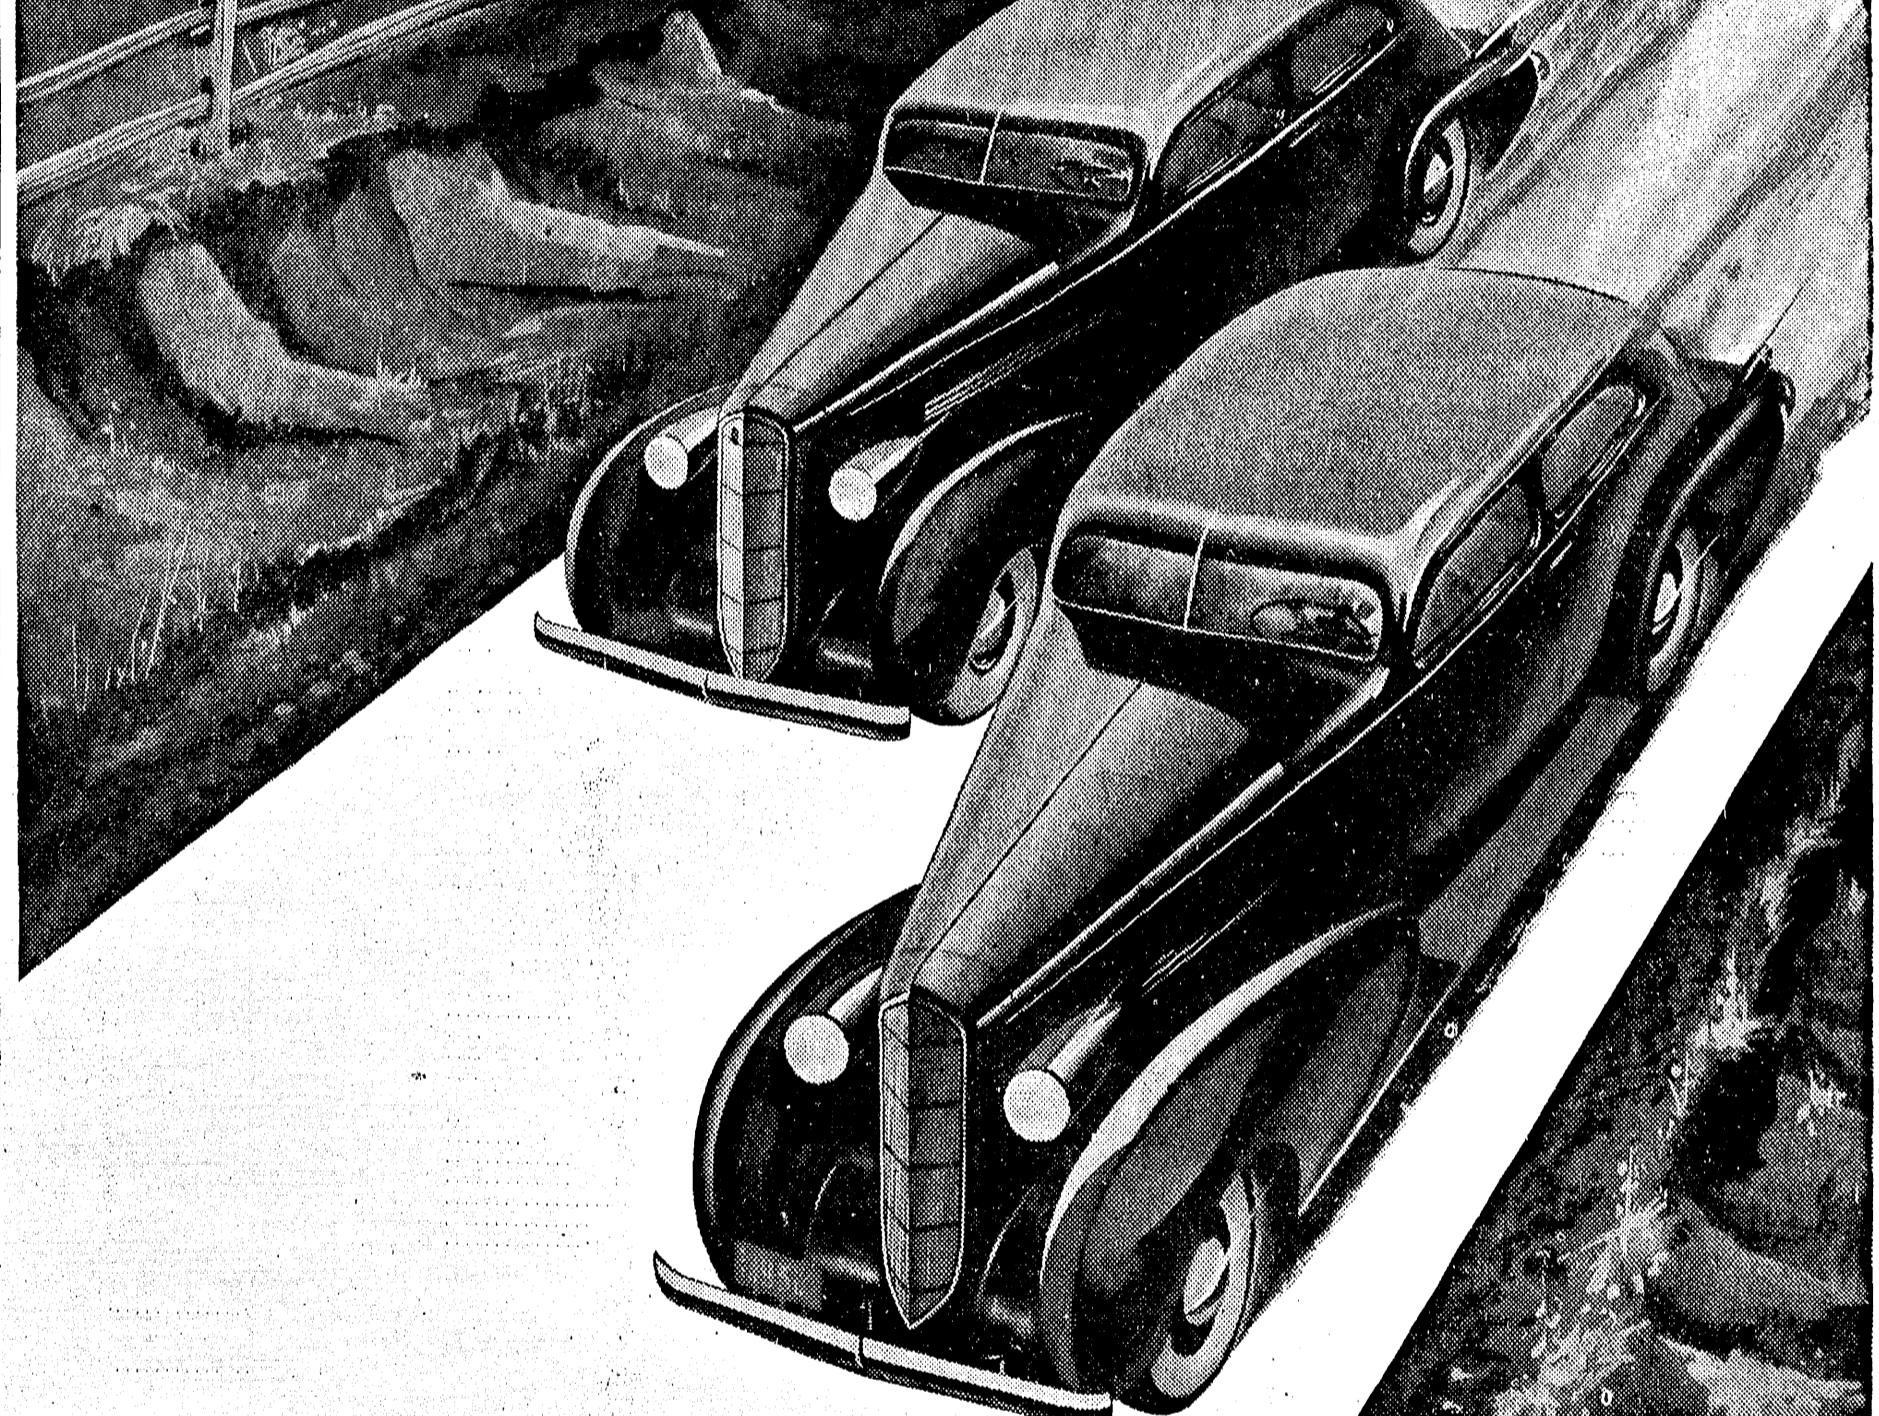

Divorced persons will have to pay up to 50 percent of their incomes for the support of their children and divorces will be made more difficult by heavy taxation.

Many fathers, it was announced this morning, who for years have refused to support their children, began making payments, fearing the punishment of two years imprisonment provided for dodgers of this obligation.

Similarly, a sharp decrease was reported throughout the nation in the number of operations to avoid child-birth. Such operations are now illegal.

One of the concessions made to public opinion after a democratic discussion of the project was a decision to aid families of more than six instead of seven children.

The government will pay 2000 rubles a year for five years after the birth of the seventh child and give similar aid at the birth of each succeeding child, including the tenth. After the tenth 5000 rubles will be paid for each new baby.
